BIOGRAPHY

Romain Thiery, born in Bergerac in 1988, is an internationally renowned photographic artist, renowned for his "Requiem for pianos" series, which immortalises abandoned pianos around the world. Combining his passion for photography and music, he captures the melancholy beauty of these instruments while recording their last sounds, creating a unique visual and sonic work. His work, exhibited in prestigious galleries and museums from Paris to Tokyo, has won him numerous awards and rave reviews. Working with the association Musique et Spoliation, he is also committed to the preservation of instruments looted during conflicts. Published in influential media such as The Guardian and El Pais, Romain Thiery continues to inspire and reach a global audience.

DISTINGUISHMENTS

Romain Thiery's work has been exhibited in world-renowned galleries and museums from Paris to Tokyo, Los Angeles to Tel Aviv, and beyond. His Requiem for Pianos series has won numerous awards, cementing his place as one of the most influential contemporary photographers. Critics praise his ability to transform scenes of decay into poetic and powerful compositions.

His photographs have been published in influential media such as The Guardian, Lonely Planet, El País, Der Spiegel, Point de Vue, and Esquire, confirming his worldwide reputation. With his singular artistic vision, Romain Thiery continues to inspire and touch a global audience, leaving a lasting mark on the world of art and music.
